...SINESS IN ...KENTUCKY IS MAKING GAIN

Coal, Ore Production Is Increasing Over District.

NEED FARM HELP

Business in All Lines Shows Upward Tendency—Report of Eight Reserve District.

By Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Oct. 1.—The general trend of business in the Eighth Reserve District including Kentucky, during the last thirty days was in the direction of further improvement, according to a review issued today. Except in a few cases, however, the betterment is reported to have been slow.

"While fundamentally the situation gained further strength," the report explains, "and there has been no appreciable diminution in the recent optimism, ordering of merchandise is proceeding cautiously and along conservative lines. The improved position in the agricultural sections, while being reflected in extensive liquidation of indebtedness and much more hopeful sentiment, has resulted thus far in only moderate increase in actual purchases."

As a whole, it is said, industrial activities showed no marked change during the period under review, although the tendency was forward. Production in the boot and shoe industry showed a substantial increase.

The continued heavy distribution of commodities is reflected in reports of railroads operating in the district and traffic carriers for the country as a whole. During the last week of August car loadings of all kinds exceeded the one million mark for the first time this year.

Other favorable factors in the general business situation in the district were the sustained activity in the building industry, more seasonable weather, increased buying power of the public, slight improvement in employment conditions and the strength of the banking and financial position, the report says.

Fair gains in employment were shown in the coal, lead and zinc mining sections, and additions to their forces were made by the iron and steel, furniture, lumber and milling industries. An excellent call for farm help is reported, and road building, city paving, river work and the railroads and public utilities are drawing heavily on common labor.

Favorable weather, good roads and satisfactory market prices contributed, the report says, to a heavy movement of farm products during September. Receipts of wheat, oats and rye were well in excess of the corresponding period last year, but due to the lateness of the crop, movement of corn fell behind a year ago, and live stock shipments were also smaller.

The arrival of cooler weather, coupled with further improvement in industry, and diminishing stocks in consumer's hands, it is reported had a stimulating effect on the coal situation. Reports of producers and selling agencies of bituminous coal, while still reflecting depression, indicated larger sales and better prospects than in many months.

All sections report building operations on a large scale, it is said, but relatively the best showing was made in the South, where much new work of all kinds is being initiated. Bith number and value of building permits in the five largest cities of the district, Evansville, Little Rock, Louisville, Memphis and St. Louis, during August exceeded those in the corresponding period in 1923.

SHOP HAS RECORD IN SAFETY RULES

Only One Accident In Three Years —Related at Safety Meet In Louisville.

By Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 1.—A record of shop management on a large scale which resulted in only one accident disabling a man more than one day in three years, which contained 2,412,800 man hours, was told to the steam railroad section of the thirteenth annual safety congress here today by W. A. Clark, general foreman of the Duluth Missabe and Northern Railway company, originator of the system and rules which made the record possible.

The safety record of the Missabe road's department, under Mr. Clark's management, since Oct., 16, 1921, to Sept. 1, 1924, was marred by only one accident disabling an employe more than one day, and that accident occurred July 22, 1922.

In more than 28 months, just ended, there has not been a single accident serious enough to keep a man from returning to work the following day, railroad officials state.

Construction, heavy and light repairs, running repairs in the yards and terminals of a railroad offer many opportunities for injury, said Mr. Clark.

Proper education of employes in precaution, use of capable workmen only, blocking all weights under which men work, not relying on crowbars or jacks for protection discarding all tools which fail to pass a daily inspection, use of good tools only and precautions against fires, electrical shocks, and gas explosions were among the suggestions offered by Mr. Clark to safeguard workmen.

"After all details of mechanical safeguards have been perfected, it will be apparent that the ideal or true spirit of safety must come from the supervisors," he said.

"Success in safety work must start or emanate at the top. Enthusiasm for safety should radiate from the head of the department. Interest and success in safety work depends on the attitude of the supervisors.

"After this has been done the men or workmen must be educated to the point that they will guard themselves.

"Education that must reach the individual will also enthuse the supervisory force with the spirit of service to humanity.

CHARGE AGAINST BALL IS IGNORED

Governor Apparently Taking No Cognizance—Accused Chief Makes Denial.

Plea for ousting of Chief H. E. Ball from office on charges brought at Frankfort has been ignored by Governor Fields, according to reports, as no date has been fixed by the executive for a hearing of the case.

Chief Ball and his force of officers were charged with taking an alleged army deserter from a deputy constable. The chief says that he alone took the prisoners, that the other members of the force, whose names were included in the charge did not even have a knowledge of the circumstance. Chief Ball had written instructions to apprehend Milt Carmack, charged with deserting from the army at Fort Thomas and arrested him on that authority.

Another clause of the charges stated that Chief Ball had caused Oakie Manning to register as a Republican when his preference was Democratic. The accused official claims that there is no foundation for this part of the charge.

Joe Sweeney Kiwanis Chairman Tomorrow

Joe Sweeney will be chairman of the Kiwanis luncheon tomorrow and will also award the attendance prize. The silent boost will be given by the Whistle Bottling company. Identity of the principal speaker is not disclosed in the programs sent out today.

The following Kiwanians who will have charge of the meetings on the dates designated are requested to get busy with their plans: Joe F. Bosworth, October 9; R. K. Judy October 16; Dr. O. O. Stone, October 23 and J. E. Evans, October 30. Those who have offered cars for the delegates of the Kentucky Master Bakers convention which begins here Tuesday are invited to be on hand and show the visitors a good time.

NEW STREETS ARE ACCEPTED BY CITY

Residents of Chester Protest Cost Where Width Is Not Uniform.

New street improvements on 18th and 19th streets and Exeter and Chester avenues were accepted at the special meeting of the city commission this morning. A number of protests had been filed against the acceptance.

Claiming it unfair to equalize cost of street construction among residents of the entire block when the narrows from forty feet in width to twenty feet, citizens along the narrow portion of Chester avenue between 18th and 19th streets protested to paying the cost assessed to them.

According to Judge T. G. Anderson, the language of the statute and of the city ordinance provides for such equalization, though he admitted that this is an extreme case. The protesting property owners were informed that if the residents of the wide portion of the block would agree to pay for the cost of the paving in front of their property the matter would be satisfactory to the city.

I. O. O. F. MEETING ENJOYABLE EVENT

Music, Speeches, Refreshments Are Features of Get-Together Meeting.

Spirited speeches, splendid music adequate refreshments and a general spirit of fraternalism and good fellowship featured the public meeting of the Oddfellows at their hall here last night. About 125 men were present and much enthusiasm was created and inspiration obtained from the booster meeting.

The Rev. A. B. Reeves and the Rev. Sam P. Martin made interesting speeches in which they brought out the finer phases of manhood, and brotherhood. Watts' Blue Ribbon Syncopators, composed of R. C. Dagley, John Wallbrecht, Finley Cecil, Roger Cecil and Henry Austin, furnished the enlivening music for the meeting.

A number of men were there who were not Oddfellows and were delighted guests of the order. Ice cream and cake were served for refreshments and cigars were available for all.

The meeting is in keeping with the I. O. O. F. program all over the state which encourages public meetings in order to renew interest of lagging members and to encourage eligible men to unite with the order.

STREET PLANNING AVERTS ACCIDENTS

Traffic Fatalities Due More to Improper Facilities Than Carelessness.

Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 1.—Increase of fatalities and accidents upon the streets of cities is as much due to improper design or plan of the cities as to carelessness of individuals or poor traffic regulation Harland Bartholomew, city plan engineer of St. Louis, told members of the National Safety Council here today.

"Our cities represent the least efficient and most careless of the things built by man," he said. "We pay infinite attention to the design of individual structures—office buildings, hotels, factories, institutional buildings and even homes—but we have ignored the aggregate mass, the city, which must as truly have unity of function as an individual structure, to rightfully fulfil its purpose.

"Most cities are the result of haphazard growth—more of accident than design. The automobile has revolutionized street traffic, and yet we still attempt to get along with the same rigid set of narrow and imperfectly arranged streets originally layed out to suit the need of the small village at a different day and age. Rightfully someone may ask whether we can afford to pay the price of re-design and readjustment. Those cities which have boldly taken the steps, notably Chicago and St. Louis and even the smaller cities, such as Memphis, are finding it not merely worth the cost but even pays dividends in increasing property values, rehabilitation of blighted districts, new enterprises, increased tax returns for the city, and simultaneously, proved traffic conditions and greater public safety.

RAILROADS FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE"

Statement of Official at Bankers Convention.

LARGE TAXPAYERS

Illinois Central President Says the Government Ownership is Ruinous Policy for Public.

Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The railroads are in the first line of defense against those who would make this country a second Russia, C. H. Markham, president, Illinois Central Railroad company, declared here today in an address before the fiftieth annual convention of the American Bankers Association at the Auditorium Theatre in which he attacked proposals for government ownership of the roads.

Mr. Markham said that the broad principle to be considered was whether the people desire more government in business and eventually all government in business, which is communism. The patriotic grounds to be considered are those of the greatest good for the greater number, which constitute the essential principle of democracy.

"Our nation has developed as the great defender of the rights of the individual. Private property is the cornerstone of our industrial structure. We have had to regulate many private businesses, including railroads, but we have always managed to avoid confiscation. We have never favored government ownership as a national policy, and therefore we have never been called upon to decide definitely just how far it should go. If the railroads are taken over by the government, we must face the fact that the big step in reversing our old settled policy will be taken and there will be no stopping the force once we have let it loose. If there is no particular reason why the government should not own and run the railroads, is there any reason why it should not take over the banks, stores, factories, farms, until all of us are government employes and the ideal of the soviet is attained?

"The largest business enterprise of the government is the post office and department which has about 300,000 employes. The railroads have about 2,000,000 employes. There are approximately as many railroad employes as there are in all government service, federal, state, county and municipal, put together. If the railroads are taken over by the government, there will be one government employe out of every ten wage earners in the country instead of one out of 20 as at present. If this one great step is taken into government ownership, can any other industry in the country feel that it is safe?

"The railroads, under private ownership, are among our heaviest taxpayers. Under government ownership the railroads would be no more subject to taxation than the postoffices now are. The result would be an unbearable burden that might force many of our local governments to stop payments on their bonds and to go into bankruptcy. The tax problem would be a great deal more vexatious than it is today.

"The acquisition of the railroads would add more than $20,000,000,000 to our national debt, already the largest ever carried by any nation no longer in existence than ours. If government railroads in this country were no more successful than they are elsewhere in the world, the interest on that twenty billions of purchase price would be the cause for additional burdens on the taxpayers left to carry it. As the tax burden developed it would not be surprising to see other industries welcoming government ownership for themselves. They would gain immunity from taxation, and their owners would probably be protected from loss. The Constitution prevents the confiscation of private property, and government ownership can be accomplished only by paying a fair price for the properties taken over.

"It would be hard to find [illegible] ...ished, the incentive to render satisfactory service would very largely be gone. What would happen to the morale of the employes and to the confidence of the people in the railroads is not hard to imagine.

"The experience of others should teach us that ventures into government ownership of railroads do not pay. The intelligence of the American people certainly can be trusted to profit by the lessons that help up before it. We cannot afford to experiment with our railroads. They are among our most valuable possessions. Many other nations envy us. Treated fairly and encouragingly they will pay us returns many fold in the service they will render the constantly increasing prosperity of our nation in the years to come."

FIELDS COMMENTS ON RECENT BIBLE ACT

Superintendent McRhoads Gives Suggestions as to Portions To Be Read.

By Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Oct. 1.—With the opening of public schools, McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of public instruction, has received many requests from county superintendents for suggestions reading the Bible.

The reading of the Bible in schools of Kentucky was made obligatory by the 1924 general assembly.

The old narratives, parts of the Psalms, Proverbs, the Prophets, the law, the Sermon on the Mount, the Parables, many selected topics and also reading from special occasions, such as Easter, Christmas and Thanksgiving, were suggested for the teachers to "read to their classes daily, without comment."

In the executive vault there lay today, explanation or Gov. Fields upon his signature of the measure. It read:

"I was grateful for the privilege of signing the bill making it compulsory to have the Bible read in the common schools of Kentucky.

"America was founded upon the principles of the Christian religion. Our civil laws are based upon the ten commandments. We are taught the full thread of human education is a fourfold development intellectual, moral, physical, and spiritual. We have ever regarded the latter as the most essential element of man's development.

"If the Bible is, as we profess to believe, the textbook of the spiritual education, a book surpassing this and infallible truths—I can all others in its high moral maxsee no logical reason why it should not be read daily in our public schools.

"In view of the fact that no soul can go astray who has this book for its monitor, it is my ardent hope that with the assistance and cooperation of our teachers the day may come when the Bible will be the rule of faith and conduct of the citizens of our commonwealth."

DECIDED BY ONE VOTE

"In 1811 a Rhode Island farmer dallied to release his pig from a fence and arrived at the polls too late to cast his vote. The Federalists lost that precinct by one vote; as a result, a representative who favored war with Great Britain was elected to the legislature, which in turn by a majority of one elected a United States Senator who favored war. Then Congress, by a majority of one, declared the war, generally known as the War of 1812."

The foregoing is quoted from the political observations of Richard T. Greener. It should be re-read and memorized by the man who says to himself: "Shucks! my vote doesn't make much difference. Guess I'll not go to the polls."

Our country, in its Colonial days, fought in a hard and bloody war to win its independence and to establish a government by majority.

This principle of government by majority vote is the most valuable possession of democracy.

Yet for many decades there has been an increasing tendency among voters not to cast their ballots in presidential elections.

This tendency has reached a grave and critical point where we are very close to government by minority.

In the 1920 presidential election, for every 100 who voted, 96 who were legitimately entitled to vote stayed away from the polls.

Do you want government by majority or by minority You answer quickly: "By majority!" But you help destroy government by majority if you neglect to express indifference as to what kind of government we have, good or bad.

The ballot is the foundation of popular government. By wise use of the ballot, citizens can remodel our political and economical institutions—in short, can have any kind of government they want.

Are you really indifferent about whether we have good government or bad? No! a thousand times no!

Is your lone vote unimportant among millions? Remember the Rhode Island farmer whose failure to vote may have caused a war, and again you answer "No! a thousand times no!"

Do you want better government, a voice in making it better? Do you want to keep America a government by majority? Yes! a thousand times yes!

Then be sure to cast your ballot this fall.

Vote without fail! Vote without fail! Vote without fail!

YOUR vote is needed! YOUR vote is needed! YOUR vote is needed!"

BOOSTS MIDDLESBORO-KNOXVILLE ROUTE

The following interview, published in the Knoxville Journal gives an interesting insight to the impression Middlesboro and towns along the route between here and Knoxville make on the transient visitors:

"The most wonderful trip in an automobile I ever made," was the enthusiastic praise of a gentleman who recently visited Middlesboro in company with two or three others.

"We had the finest dinner at Tazewell I have eaten in many a day, and vegetables and everything else—the best country ham I ever had, all for fifty cents per day. Scenery—I have never seen such magnificent scenery as one views at Cumberland Gap. In my opinion it is superior to that of Elkmont or any mountain section in East Tennessee, and there is nothing in North Carolina comparable to it. Middlesboro, too, is some town. We passed right through the grounds of Lincoln Memorial university, and say, they alone are worth going that far to see. Rolling around the mountains far above the clouds is calculated to furnish most anyone a thrill. Then dropping down off the mountain, mile after mile, and coasting, gives one a pleasureable sensation. The roads, too, are good. We jogged along going and coming, making no effort to break any speed records, and were but six hours making the round trip. We traveled in a big car, but made the round trip of one hundred and forty-four miles on ten gallons of gas. I wouldn't take twenty-five dollars for the pleasure I got out of it."

CHILDREN AND MOTOR CARS.

Chicago has a death total of 500 for automobile accidents alone for the year 1924—an average of over fifty-five per month or nearly two deaths per day. As a result of this record the police are on one of their sporadic crusades against violations of the motor vehiclelaws with the result that over two thousand traffic violators have been arrested in the past two or three days.

Middlesboro has been free from motor accidents of a fatal nature this summer. Now and then cars come together but the results of the collisions thus far have been happily without any serious results. However, attention has been directed regarding children driving cars and in some instance trucks. The motor vehicle law of Kentucky provides that no one under 16 years of age may operate a motor driven vehicle unless accompanied by the owner or some person duly authorized by the owner who is at least 21 years of age. Further, the ordinance specifies that no one under any circumstance may operate a motor car when under 14 years of age.

According to reports, and this is heresay evidence, children below the statute age, have been operating cars within the city. Many of the accidents in other places have been the result of inexperienced driving by persons below the age limit. We are not immune in Middlesboro from accidents resulting from like violations of the law.

The woman are wearing their new fall hats. At least that's what we think they are.

Cold is what makes the Esquimos fat, which is what makes a girl wear silk stockings in winter.

We would hate to be so fat we had no lap upon which to sit the younger set.

Late to bed an late to rise makes a man unhealthy and broke and wise.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

(By Harry B. Hunt)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Washingtonians, who have been paying only twice the rent their living accommodations are worth during the summer, go back the first of October to the regular rate of three times as much.

This is the usual thing in the national capital.

Probably there isn't another city in the world from which there's so general a summer exodus, beginning about the middle of May. From then until the middle of September nobody's in town who can possibly get and keep away from it.

Consequently the landlords are left with a lot of vacant houses and apartments on their hands and they trim rentals a little to try and tempt people to occupy them.

For one thing, congress ordinarily isn't in session in summer.

That makes a big difference. It means the departure, not only of nearly all the senators and representatives with their families, but also of large numbers whose business directly or indirectly depends on the lawmakers' doings.

All the supreme court outfit leaves likewise.

A majority of the heads of the numerous executive departments bureaus, divisions, units, commissions, committees, boards, institutions, foundations, administrations, and miscellaneous other offices are important enough personages not to have to stick very tight to their jobs, so they too, are gone most of the season.

Even the underlings are entitled each to at least two weeks vacation, and while they're not all away at once, a considerable proportion of them are.

On top of all this, "sassiety" tears out in a body the minute the trees begin to bud.

Washington summers are middling hot. Still, it's a pretty place and comfortable enough in a palm beach suit, and the shade—a lot more so than the average crowded summer resort. So it isn't entirely clear why almost the whole community moves away every year.

Probably it's just a habit.

It's a mercy, however, for those who do stay here. It gives 'em that little spell of relief from the cutthroat rents they have to pay the rest of the time.

New York's rents have nothing on Washington's and there isn't the same excuse for it. Washington isn't crowded as Manhattan is. While there isn't an excuse, there's an explanation. The explanation is the air tight trust the landlords have.

The average government employe has to turn over practically his entire income to his landlord.

How he and his family live is a mystery.

What do they eat? How do they clothe themselves? Salaries are low in the government service and that class of people have considerable "front" to maintain.

The Washington rent commission fights the trust, as well as it can. It issues orders, gets injunctions, and has secured a few indictments. The landlords hate the commission and are somewhat afraid of it, but still they keep rents up—not so high in summer as in winter, but twice what they ought to be at the best of times.

FOOTBALL, RACING SEASON TO BEGIN

Grid Men, Track Trainers Over Kentucky, Getting "Warmed Up' for Test.

LOUISVILLE, KY. Oct. 1.—Two hour skull sessions are indulged in by the Cardinals when rain prevents working out at Parkway Field. Signals are "pounded in" and the blackboard used profusely, Coach Enke said today, in preparation for the game Saturday with the Kentucky Wildcats at Lexington.

The gridiron camp at the University of Louisville today presented a busy scene, the new men being tested as possibilities to supplant last year's heavy, rangy material.

DANVILLE, Oct. 1.—Rainy days do not keep the Colonels indoors, although they are receiving their dose of skull practice, coaches said today.

Mindful of the drizzling rain which visited the Kentucky-Centre game here last year, the water soaked pigskin is a feature of the preliminary routing this season. The backs are handling the wet ball better each day, the mentors admitted.

LATONIA, Oct. 1.—Like an admiral on a bridge is John C. Weber, for 11 years bandmaster at the race track here.

Everybody apparently knows him. The musicians pay little attention to the races, regarding them much as a merry-go-round of wooden horses during the uproar of voices accompanying the running of the races. Music is not played then.

"We wish to keep the horses minds on the race," John smiled an explanation to day.

LEXINGTON, Oct. 1.—The season's crack trotters and pacers are ready to start.

The trots, rounding up soon, will be lively, from the starting hour to sunset, officials said today. No delays will be allowed, Dr. Frank E. Stone, starter, announced. Six races will be run daily, he added, with horses declared the afternoon before their schedule to start.

Actual starters and scoring places will be known the evening before he said.

Declaring clause, decided upon provides that no horse will be excused except when close investigation reveals a sure handicap, as unfitness, because of lameness, he said.

LEAGUE BODY IS IN FULL ACCORD

Statesmen Agree on Matter of Arbitration and Security Amendment.

Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 30.—Complete accord was reached today by three statesmen entrusted with the task of finding a solution to the difficulty brought about by the Japanese presentation of an amendment to the protocol on arbitration and security.

The agreement satisfactory to the Japanese agreement will be formally presented to the sub-committee of the judical commission this afternoon. The broad basis of the solution gives the council of the League of Nations to right to examine all conflicts between nations with a view to settling disputes.

St. Paul's Church Is Near Collapse

Associated Press.

LONDON ...—Despite heroic efofrts being made to strengthen its fabric, evidence accumulates that St. Paul's cathedral, Sir Christopher Wren's masterpiece, is threatened with disintegration. This evidence has been obtained from a variety of sources, during the past 25 years.

The latest warning comes from the recently constituted Fine Arts Commission, which argues against the erection of a new bridge over the Thames opposite St. Paul's on the ground that the great cathedral already is threatened by heavy motor traffic, which is constantly increasing, and that any further shaking may lead to a catastrophe.

TENNESSEE

ERWIN MAN KILLED

ERWIN, Tenn., Oct. 1.—A coroner's jury investigating today the violent deaths of John Dan Sams and Conway Sams, cousins whose bullet marked bodies were found last night on Higgins Creek, about eight miles south of Erwin, came to the conslucion that Conway had killed John Dan and accused Dewey Sams, brother of John Dan Sams, of having taken a hand in the shooting.

Dewey Sams was arrested following the finding near the scene of the tragedy of a 38 calibre high powered rifle said to be the property of Dewey Sams. The killings are supposed to have been the outcome of an old grudge, fanned by whisky. Both dead men were married, Conway Sams leaving a widow and six children.

Miss Emmie Niclas, as the adorable "Mitzi", Miss Marian Harriman Miss Emmie Niclas, as the Adorable "Fritzi," Mr. Arthur Geary, as the Dashing Nobleman, Baron Schober, and Miss Bernardine Brady, as the Winsome "Kitzi," in "Blossom Time," the sweetest story ever told. Coming to the Manring Theatre, Monday evening October 6th.

"BLOSSOM TIME" FINE LOVE STORY

Theme Cleverly Re-written —Music and Lyrics of Play Unsurpassed.

There is a very rare treat in store for playgoers of this city in the announcement that the Messrs. Shubert will present the enchanting operetta "Blossom Time" at the Manring theatre, Monday evening, only, October 6th, direct from its remarkable triumphs in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia.

The story of "Blossom Time" deals with the love of Franz Schubert. The scenes are laid in old Vienna and the story is told in three acts. The original theme of this story was discovered in a half fiction, half biographical, life of Schubert whic hwas published shortly after his death. This material was worked over into a musical comedy by Wilner and Reichert. Miss Dorothy Donnelly has entirely re-written the Viennese book and has supplied a new set of lyrics. It is altogether a charming love story that has been used in this incident of Schubert's life in old Vienna.

Schubert is already famous, but at the time is sadly in need of food and his friends watch over him that they may supply this deficiency when it occurs. The first act occurs at an outdoor restaurant in the famous Prater Park in May, in 1826. At this restaurant there gathers three little maids, Mitzi, Fritzi and Kitzi. They are famous over Vienna for their prettiness and charm. Schubert falls in love with Mitzi. There is some doubt as to the girl's love, whether it is real love or admiration for the composer's great abilities. Schubert has many other friends, the Baron von Schober, a prima donna named Bellebruna and various other people who enter his life. The prima donna thinks Franz Schober has fallen in love with Mitzi and she hopes to separate them. She gives a very bad report of the character of "F. S." as she refers to the Baron, and whom Mitzi takes to be her admirer, Franz Schubert. Schober actually falls in love with Mitzi and his love is reciprocated. He sings Mitzi a song that Schubert has dedicated to her. Poor Schubert is too good a fellow to resent his friend's luck and he loves Mitzi too much not to rejoice in her happiness, and so takes refuge in his music.

Among the important members of the cast will be Joseph Mendelsohn, Emmie Niclas, Arthur Geary, Bernardine Brady, Wm. Nettum, Flo Keely, Frank Horn and Marie Dantes. A special character of twelve will render the beautiful score.

GOLDFIELD WIPED OUT BY BIG FIRE

Disastrous Conflagration Destroys Once Famous Western Mining Camp.

Associated Press.

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Sept. 30. — Goldfield, once the premier mining town of the west with 30,000 inhabitant today has left standing only two of a score or more of big buildings erected when it was a prosperous and busy city. The Goldfield hotel and the buildings belonging to the Deep Mines company erected at a cost of half million dollars are the only business structures surviving yesterday disastrous quarter of a million dollars blaze, the second big fire to sweep the old camp within fifteen months. The postoffice was burned and the postal business is carried on in the hotel pool room today.

The Goldfield Tribune, once possessor of a four story building, is being published fifteen miles away today. Other businesses have opened new quarters in the hotel lobby today, awaiting the erection of new structures on the sites of yesterday's fire.

Lonnie Jackson Resigns as Union Head

No reason was given for the action. Jackson will continue as mayor of Central City, is was announced. Wes Ames, vice president, automatically becomes president.

Americans Insist on Very Best in Music

Associated Press.

VIENNA, Sept. 30. —European musicians who have gained the impression that the United States is a land of gold where art is not fully appreciated and that much money can be obtained with little effort, recently were given some sound, but perhaps shocking advice by Frieda Hempel, who is spending the summr on the continent.

The American singer warned the European musicians that the only artists who succeed in the United States are those who are of high ability and quality and give their best to the American public. Americans, she addad, are willing to pay well for their music, but insist upon having the best.

Every property owner should clean up his premises of trash during the week and thereby lower the chances of a fire hazard, Joe Ensey, deputy, said today.

BRYAN GORE LOOKS IF VOTERS SUPPORT LA FOLLETTE TICKET

Coolidge or Chaos Is Sole Choice of Citizens as Deadlock Menace Threatens.

LITTLE DOUBT WHOM SENATE WOULD NAME

Analysis of Situation Shows Danger of Nebraskan Going to White House.

Coolidge or chaos.

That is about what the coming election resolves itself into. A vote for Davis is a vote for Bryan. It is generally believed that Davis cannot possibly muster the necessary majority of the electoral votes to be named President. A vote for LaFollette is a vote for Bryan. It is not claimed by the most enthusiastic supporter of LaFollette that he could by any remote chance be elected. What he could do, however, is throw the election into the congress, with the chances favoring the naming of Bryan as vice president. The house being unable to give a majority to any one of the candidates for President, as it is at present organized; the senate, under the Constitution, would elect a vice president and the vice president elected by the senate would become President on March 4. That is why a vote for Davis or LaFollette is a vote for Bryan, and a vote for Coolidge is a vote for Coolidge.

The official counting of the electoral votes is not done until February. The Twelfth amendment to the Constitution provides as follows for the conduct of the congress in case the electoral college makes no choice:

Constitutional Provision.

"And if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the house of representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the house of representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the vice president shall act as President, as in the case of the death or any constitutional disability of the President.

"The person having the greatest number of votes as vice president, shall be the vice president, if such a number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the senate shall choose the vice president; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of senators and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice."

Meets in February.

Complying with this provision of the Constitution, when the time comes in February for the Presidential electors to report, and it is discovered that there is no majority choice for President, then the house and senate will begin to ballot. But this official report of the electors does not occur until a month before it is time for the next administration to take office.

From election day, November 4, until some solution of the tangle is found—and the untangling of the knot cannot come before February—the country will be facing the possibility of a deadlock, or the putting of a man into the highest office of the land who was not voted for as President, who was not even selected by his party for President.

If LaFollette could secure enough votes to keep Coolidge from having a majority of the electoral votes, throwing the election of the President into the house, the house and senate would act independently of each other in their votes. That is, the senate does not await the result of the effort of the house to elect a President before proceeding to the selection of the vice president.

Vote Is by States.

As each state, no matter how large its population and its representation in the house, has only one vote, it is obvious that those states having a majority of representatives of one political faith will cast the vote of that state for their party nominee. As there are 48 states, and a majority of all of them is necessary to the selection of a President, a successful aspirant must have the votes of at least 25 states.

It should be emphasized that it is the present house of representatives and the present senate that vote for President and vice president in the event of the election being thrown into the congress. New congressmen and senators elected this fall will have nothing whatever to do with it.

The present house of representatives is so made up that there is little likelihood it can make a choice. Democrats make up a majority of the delegations of 20 states, while 23 state delegations have Republican majorities. In 5 other states the representation is evenly divided, and those states would have no vote to cast. Those states are Maryland, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire and New Jersey.

BIG SCOREBOARD FOR GRID GAMES

Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—Beginning with the game next Saturday with the Kentuckians of Transylvania University, Lexington, the athletic management of St. Xavier college here will operate a massive scoreboard, 28 feet high and 18 feet wide, to identify for spectators names and numbers of the players in any particular play. The board will require ten students for operation of telephones and mechanical devices.

The Saints began a plan of two daily practice sessions today in preparation for the Kentucklans. The candidates convened for 30 minutes at noon and worked out the strategy at Corcoran Field later in the afternoon, under coaches Joe Meyer and Gene Mayl. The Staints are working for a heavy line and began building the forward wall in the heavy workout.

Next Saturday's game opens the football season here and the Kentuckians also will be guests at dedication exercises at Elect hall on the campus.

BACK GIVEN OUT?

Then Follow the Advice of This Middlesboro Resident.

Are you dragging along day after day with a dull, nagging backache? Do you feel tired, lame and achy; suffer sharp, torturing pains at every sudden move? Then look to your kidneys! Colds, strains and overwork weaken the kidneys and bring on throbbing backache and knife-like twinges. Don't risk serious kidney disease! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Read what this Middlesboro resident says:

George Whited, painter, 928 E Cumberland Ave., says: "I had dull, steady pains across the small of my back and when I reached up to paint, sharp, knife-like pains took me and almost cut me in two. When I first got up mornings, my back was stiff and sore. My kidneys were sluggish, too, and the secretions burned and contained heavy sediment. I used Doan's Pills from Lee & Co.'s Drug Store, and they cured the backache and put my kidneys in good order."

How the Railroads Helped You to Stand the Hottest Summer in Years!

Vacation days are over and the hot spell has broken. The weather bureau tells us that the summer of 1924 brought to the South more sustained heat and a longer heated period than any in years. How did you stand it? Did the railroads help? Were you made more comfortable by the transportation systems of the country?

Did you have a vacation trip to a cooler climate, or did you weather the weather in the comforts of your own home? In either event, the railroads played an important part—as they do every month in the year—in adding to your comfort.

Milk, fresh vegetables, fruits, meats, the principal items of summer diet—would have been impossible to secure or prohibitive in price, but for the railroads.

As we enter the period of Fall activities with the great crop movement just commencing, the opportunity is afforded every American citizen to look both forward and backward at the task which is being accomplished by the railroads.

Shall the good work go on unhampered by destructive legislation which in practically every instance is backed by persons entirely unfamiliar with transportation problems?

DEEPEST POINT IN OCEAN NEAR JAPAN

Japan Announced That Greatest Depression In Earth Exceeds Six Miles

Associated Press

TOKIO, Oct 1 The lowest known point on the earth's crust the deepest known trench in the ocean, lies about 115 miles southeast of Tokio Two discoveries made recently by the Japanese naval survey Dip Mandzu Deep been announced by the navy authorities

The new deep measures 32400 feet or more than six miles It exceeds by 548 feet the hitherto greatest known ocean depth the Emu Maritime trench in which the United States naval ship Nero in 1899 found 32088 feet off the east coast of the Island of Mindanao in the Philippine

The Manshu deep apparently lies at the bottom of a precipitous declivity descending sharply about 100 miles from the southeastern coast of the mainland of Japan To the Japanese the first interest in the discovery lies in the seismic possibilities of this trench so near their coast The sharpness with which the ocean bed plunges a few miles from Japan is held by scientists to be a contributing factor to the severe earthquakes which visit this part of the country

National "Get-Out-the Vote" Campaign is Being Waged

In the 1920 presidential election, over 25 million American citizens who were eligible to vote failed to cast their ballots

The people who did vote totaled 26 718 812 their votes were divided among the various candidates

This was the situation for every 100 voters that there were 52 stay at homes or absentees—the total non-at home vote reaching the vast aggregate of 20,705 706

That brought the nation very close to government by minorities Unless the people awaken to their duty of citizenship less than half their citizens will vote this fall

In an effort to awaken the public to its duty The Daily News Washington in co-operation with New England Enterprise Association, of which this paper is a member will join in a nation wide Get Out the Vote campaign

The campaign which will be strictly non-partisan has been endorsed by the three presidential candidates scores of prominent citizens and patriotic organizations

The vast army of non voters cast their ballots for the candidate of the state in which they failed to vote polled If ten per cent of the stay at homes in "rock ribbed" states were colonized in "doubtful" states they would decide any close national contest

The stay at home total of over twenty five million is arrived at after deducting 5 867,027 disqualified citizens of 21 years and over including about 2 000 000 aliens of unnaturalized foreign born and over two million illiterate citizens disfranchised under election law of 12 other states

Kentucky has the least stay at home voters there were only 21 non voters for each 100 votes registered at the polls at the last general election The second best record was in Delaware, where a minimum swing for every 100 who voted Indiana was third with nine 45 stay-at homes

Twelve states of the upper Mississippi Valley, known as the middle west, make by all odds the best showing for any geographic section Ohio, Indiana Illinois Michigan and Wisconsin show 95 stay at homes per 100 votes, while three middle Atlantic states—New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania—had 94 absentees for the same number of votes

But the best showing is made by Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri North and South Dakota Nebraska and Kansas—50 stay at home compared with 82 per 100 votes in New England

Pennsylvania has the worst showing of any large state casting 1 581 258 vote for president in 1920 while 2 479 400 voters failed to reach the polls For every 100 persons who did vote, there were 154 who did not

A similar condition prevails in Vermont classes as a rock ribbed Republican state which stands central of the stay at homes—being second to Pennsylvania in the poll for 100 votes This is the same percentage as that of Arizona where vast distances and a large transient cowboy and Mexican element affect voting efficiency

While apathy of the voters is indirectly responsible for this neglect of citizenship duties election laws also contribute greatly to the stay-at-home vote

Most of the states have recently tried to overcome the loss of absentee votes by enacting absentee voting laws But few of these laws are efficient in reaching the result desired, for the simple reason that the absentees are required to register in person in order to vote by mail

It may be difficult for the absentee to go to his home precinct to register as to go there to vote As a consequence at least 7 per cent of the value of the absentee

Freezing Temperature Heralds Approach Winter

FREEZING TEMPERATURE—

King Winter's advance agent was in Middlesboro last night, heralding the approach of the season when he will have sway

The minimum temperature during the night was 32 according to B F Perkins local weather observer This was the freezing point and a thin coating of ice formed in places where the water was entirely still and shallow

A frost was reported by those living in this vicinity where there was no fog The temperature, coming on the last day of September and only a week from the official advent of autumn was unusual Unaccustomed to cool weather Middlesboro people shivered with the cold and glowing fires and extra bed covering sprang into vogue on short notice
